Ice Thaw Perils Bremen Flight

GERMAN AGES HASTEN PLAN FOR TAKEOFF

LAKE ST. AGNES, April 23.—We expect to fly the Bremen off Greenly Island within 48 hours.

This was the cheering word which reached here by radio and land wire tonight from the ice-floated haven of the trans-Atlantic liners in the straits of Belle Isle.

The message was the first definite one since Bremen sailed in the huge Ford relief plane landed on Greenly at 11:40 a. m. today.

Bremen, accompanied by Major Flanagan, hopped off from Green Island at 5:10 a. m. They made the 450-mile jump over hazardous terrain without mishap.

Despite the optimism that seemed to prevail on Greenly Island an ominous note tonight crept into calculations for the liner's probable arrival at Mitchell Field. A thaw has set in here. Unless the fliers arrive within a short time they may find it impossible to land or take off from St. Agnes lake on the return from Greenly.

Generous application of a slipper where it will do the most good, is the punishment awaiting two Martinez grammar school girls who sent a mysterious phone call to Mrs. Anna Davis, resulting in a flock of deputies being dispatched on a search for indications of murder, suicide or something equally terrifying.

Other Martinez women also were victims of the two practical jokes, who are Lucille Davis, 11, and May Joseph, 10.

Mrs. Davis answered an instantaneous call, and over the wire came a fading voice carrying the intelligence that its owner was dying.

They arrived at camp in time to prepare supper before dark. Several Scouts passed cooking and fire-building tests after which the evening campfire was lighted.

After breakfast on Sunday morning, half the group hiked to Deer Flats, half the way to the top of Mount Diablo, while the remainder of the boys went on a nature hike under the leadership of Carl Rasmussen. Later in the morning, a hike was taken to the caves of the prospectors of 49 days.

The two troops organized baseball teams and decided that the losing team would give the winners a "feed." The game ended in a deadlock in the tenth inning.

In the afternoon, three scouts hiked to Eagle Peak, overlooking the camp and a conversation by means of signaling was carried on between the two parties.

HUNDREDS ARE DEAD IN QUAKE

LONDON, April 23.—Hundreds are believed to have perished during the earthquake which rocked Southern Greece completely destroying the town of Corinth last night, dispatches to the Daily Express stated tonight.

The Athens correspondent of the Express cabled from the scene of the great devastation reports that because of the impassable streets and impassable ruins, the work of the rescue crews is being greatly hampered.

Working under great handicaps, the dispatches state, these men have recovered dozens of bodies from the ruins. Many of the townspeople who have not recovered are still trying to get as far as possible away from the scene.

The injured are being attended in hurriedly erected shacks by groups of Greek army veterans, who trained in the grim school of battlefield know the rudiments of first aid.

Segregated bids were received, and after read, were referred to the city engineer, the city attorney, city manager and engineer in charge for one week.

Two classes of bids on the piling were received, one for a patented, or treated concrete pile and the alternate for the concrete covered green pile.

It was generally thought that the patented piling would cost the most but the bids last evening showed that the low bidder was on this class of pile.

Although the City of Richmond and the Parr Terminal Corporation will award separate bids for each unit, they will be let at the same time.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY OF RICHMOND, CAL.

TUESDAY, APRIL 24, 1928.

A NAVY AND ITS COST

It seems, if we listen to many presumably good people, that the salvation of this world is all dependent upon an emasculated or hamstrung American navy. The facts are these: We have a government and people richer and more protecting than any other government and people in the world. They cannot be protected with hound dogs, old fashioned shot guns and opposite peace texts culled from the more or less salaried organizations for world accord now functioning under the protection of the American flag and who are about as competent and reliable for the defense of that flag in an emergency as a pet canary would be competent and reliable for the protection of a private residence from burglary.

This is a first fact. Another fact is that our merchant marine tags at the tail-end of those of other smaller and poorer nations. Our marine can't seem to make a "go" of it. The ships of other nations carry our goods.

Our navy may be adequate for the protection of this struggling marine of ours, but it certainly is in no condition to protect the great marine we should possess. The fact is, our navy is not the first in the world, nor the actual and adequate equal of that of Great Britain.

The influences against naval expansion for America are strong. They somehow appear to be able to block or retard progress in this direction. The country should know more about them. And where is the merit of outcry and propaganda against naval extension? Certain papers and publications in this country harp much over the "prodigious and indefensible" cost of proposed naval enlargement. But they do not point to the fact that the vote recently taken in the House on the question of making the navy competent to meet heavy requirements represented fifty-five per cent of the population which is paying seventy-two per cent of the federal taxes, while the vote against the increase represented forty-five per cent of the nation's population, paying twenty-eight per cent of these taxes.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

GOOD WORK WELL DONE

The Senate did a good piece of work in its unanimous adoption of the flood relief bill.

This action appropriated $325,000,000 for control of the waters of the Mississippi in such a way as will prevent repetition of the disaster of several months ago.

There was some talk of forcing the states in the Mississippi Valley to pay part of this large cost.

Such procedure would have been against the interests of the entire nation.

The Mississippi states have suffered sufficiently from the actions of the great river without being put to the additional burden of paying for their future protection.

The Mississippi is not a sectional river, but a great national asset.

Its privileges are open freely to all.

Vigorous Health

The literature of the day is preaching tolerance more and more but it has not yet permeated into the public consciousness. All are in favor of tolerance until some one steps on their toes, then they are ready for some kind of fight if it is no more than an argument.

Tolerance really means the ability to see both sides of a question, with an honest desire to arrive at the truth of the matter, and a willingness to concede that everyone has a right to his own opinion. We all need to realize that we are a part of the whole. All are fundamentally much alike and all are working toward much the same ends. We also need to observe the fact that we cannot force a man to change his opinion, for there is no sense in violent argument or fighting. A little more love and desire to help on the part of all would soon bring tolerance out on top.

I have no appetite and am constipated and suffer much with gas. I have lost 65 pounds in two years. Can I gain weight and what would you advise me to eat?—S. R.

I would advise you to eat nothing or at least nothing but fruit for a while, since you have no appetite. The weight will take care of itself when the digestive organs have been restored to normal conditions. The usual natural treatment would be a fast or fruit diet for up to five days with a daily enema followed by milk and fruit together with alternate cold and hot baths, general exercise and deep breathing.

Please inform me of the nearest and most reasonable place where I might take physical culture exercises. I have been told this would help me gain weight and correct round shoulders.

The nearest and most reasonable place would be a local restaurant, for going anywhere, as you can exercise just as well at home. If you feel that it is necessary you can get books to guide you. However, if you prefer to go to a gymnasium, you will find a list in the classified telephone directory.

Please advise me how to cure my two girls of hives. It is usually toward evening that they break out in red blotches, which heal—Mrs. E. R.

Hives are due to intestinal irritation which in turn arises from improper diet. Occasionally a single food will cause hives, but as a rule the entire diet needs correcting. The usual plan of treatment is to fast for several days with a daily enema so as to cleanse the alimentary tract, resuming eating very gradually, using only strictly natural foods.

DADDY DUSK

"Miss Ormond, Joe blurted out as she and Hal, their class president, stood outside the door of the classroom. 'Twin and Twinnie's play is just like ours!'"

"It's about the dream journey, Miss Ormond. Hal put in 'and they got an Empress and a Lady and the kids' side and a plane and everything.'"

"Because nobody snooped," Joe said miserably. "The girls couldn't have copied, because they had their play done before I even started mine, and believe me, I didn't copy. Why I wouldn't have had a play like theirs for anything. But what are we going to do, Miss Ormond? Everything's ruined, and we all look like fools."

Miss Ormond, who was young and as enthusiastic as the children themselves over the play, was almost as pale as the two boys. "It's a shame," Joe said. "A terrible shame. But it can't be helped now."

"But what are we going to do?" Joe kept insisting. "Go or wish it, of course," Miss Ormond said. "We can't simply not appear on the program."

"But they'll all laugh and maybe even sneer at the boys' night show," Hal said, "and then everybody'll get stage fright, and the whole thing would fall—and Joe and I agree that you wouldn't dare tell Mary Sue—she'd have awful stage fright, and if you did not tell her and they'd all laugh—Hal ended in a pathetic groan."

Do You Know That—

BY MISS HALL-DEANE

No longer is the handkerchief a bit of cloth to be tucked away in the dim recesses of one's bag. The newest kerchiefs are "worn" instead of carried. A pretty, new handkerchief is of tussore with a wide border of red and blue on two edges only.

Paris is finishing her newest scarves with self fringe. Prettiest of these are the kerchiefs of chiffon taffeta in varying shades.

From the House of Robour comes an interesting hat-and-earl ensemble. The scarf is a double V affair, hand painted on one side, plain on the other. The hat is of ballroom painted in colors—beige, red and navy—to match the scarf.

"How fast do you drive?" "Oh, I generally hit about sixty almost any day."

"Gracious, do you kill any?" "Gracious, do you kill any?" with special attention to raw ones so as to keep the bowels functioning regularly. Due attention is given to exercise, cool baths, deep breathing, the practice of re-sedimentation and plenty of sleep.

Affairs of the Heart and Your Marriage Problems

Patricia Lee

Patricia Lee answers questions relating to problems of married life. Names and address should be added to letters as a mark of good faith but will not be published. Readers who desire private answers should inclose a stamped self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover cost of typing, etc. Because of space limitations it is not possible to print answers to all letters received, and readers who wish an early reply should take advantage of this special service. On account of the large quantity of mail coming to this department, about ten days should be allowed for a reply. Write to Patricia Lee, care of this paper.

Dear Patricia Lee—

I am 27 years old and have been married a little over six years. We have no children. My husband and I love each other very dearly, and especially during the last couple of years we have seemed to grow very fond of each other. He works every day and has given me his week's pay for as long as we've been married. So really, we are very happy together, only a few little things that sure do hurt me now and then. When we are out in company or at parties he never seems to pay any attention to me.

He acts sort of distant and I can't figure out why or what I should do. I dress very neatly, and I don't think it's my clothes. Then there's a certain woman, ten or twelve years older than my husband, who always hangs around him and dances with him. She hardly ever talks to me, and when she does, she's not as nice to me as to his husband. I would certainly appreciate it if you would advise me.—EVELYN.

Dear Evelyn—

I wish I could make you realize how lucky you are. You're just trying to borrow trouble, my dear, and if you aren't careful you will be greatly in trouble. I don't think your husband, from any description of him, is a very social person. When you go out he believes it is his duty to "make the party go" to dance and talk with others, and let you do likewise. I think it's a great plan to follow—It gives husbands and wives a little rest from each other. Heaven help the hostess if all her guests sat around by twos and were afraid to talk to each other's wives. If you don't enjoy the parties, widen your circle of friends, but don't let your husband's footsteps at a party.

How To Earn Money!

Will you please ask some of your readers if they have any suggestions for home work that I can do? We live on a farm in northern Minnesota and have not made much headway as yet, as it is not easy to develop a farm here. We have no telephone nor any near neighbors. There are balsam and cedar trees around here. Would there be any sale for small pillows filled with the needles?—MRS. M. L. T.

I will be glad to forward any letters of advice or cheer. I wish I had space to print this interesting letter in full. Address Mrs. M. L. T., care of Sara Spence.

Mrs. Sarah Spence will answer all questions on "How to Earn Money at Home." Address her care of this paper.

POWDER MY BACK

NOVEL BY MARLINE DE HAAS

Copyright 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

"POWDER MY BACK," starring Irene Rich, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Adelle Dayton, famous musical comedy star, playing in "Powder My Back," returns to her home town, Brooklyn, to visit her married sister. During her stay, Harry Stark, her niece's beau, and George Robertson, her childhood sweetheart, now a bank president, both fall in love with her. On her return to New York, George follows her. Later, George arrives, explaining that Harry deceived with bank funds and that Adelle's niece is heartbroken. For the sake of her niece, Adelle tells Harry that she has only been pretending to love him. To convince him, she goes to Atlantic City for the week-end with George.

George helped Adelle back into the chair and drew the rug over her. "Don't you ever get tired of this sort of thing?" he laughed, stepping in beside the actress.

"O, it's all in the day's work," Adelle answered bravely. "I'm so used to it now I can pose in my sleep. And yet, at the same time, it always gives me a thrill to think that no matter where I go someone always recognizes me. I'd die, I think, if I didn't have a certain amount of it. It means my popularity, my business, my salary—everything. I'll never forget how excited I was the first time I saw my picture in a paper. I watched about me, and I patted it all up."

"Harry! Harry!" she called, and went into the next room, searching for the cigarettes, and found them on her dressing table. She picked up a match and lit one. Suddenly she heard a door open. She thought she heard someone moving in the living room. She opened the bedroom door wide, the match still flaming in her hand.

"Harry!" she stopped still in the doorway, staring at the disheveled-looking young man who seemed to be making his way to the premises, a pistol in his hand. At the sound of his name Harry turned like a flash. "Adelle—O, Adelle!" He dropped the gun and flung himself on his knees before the actress. His face was haggard and distorted.

"Why, Harry, what are you doing?" Adelle took his head in her hands and looked into his eyes. "Why did you have to come here?" she demanded, but her voice was soft, and the cold harshness she had displayed at first was gone.

"Adelle, why did you have to come here?" she asked, and the cold harshness she had displayed at first was gone. "Why did you have to come here?" she asked, and the cold harshness she had displayed at first was gone.

Richmond Club Announces Program For Rest Of Year

The president's program given yesterday under the supervision and leadership of Mrs. S. B. Wilson to members of Richmond Club was one of the most interesting and charming affairs of the club year. Mrs. Wilson, who has served Richmond club for two years as president, spared no effort to make the afternoon a success, and for program, hospitality, decorations and refreshments it will be long remembered by those who attended.

The program was in recognition of William Shakespeare's birthday anniversary, and was composed entirely of Shakespearean numbers. Dr. W. T. Howe of Berkeley, Shakespearean student and dramatic instructor, was the featured artist. Dr. Howe briefly sketched Shakespeare's works, and acted in character, various scenes from Hamlet, Merchant of Venice and Othello.

He divided Shakespeare's works into four groups: the embryonic, including Richard III, written between the ages of 26 and 30 years; the years of the poet undertook to teach people the history of England in King John, Henry IV and Henry V; Merchant of Venice, written between the ages of 30 and 35 years; and the group written between 35 and 40, including his best works, Julius Caesar, Othello, King Lear and others, and the plays written after 40, which are little known.

The musical program, introduced by Mrs. Domestica Robbins, chairman of the music department, was opened by Mrs. Syre Kleinsch playing the overture from Midsummer Night's Dream. Mrs. E. L. Schofield was playing in Juliet's Waltz Song from Romeo and Juliet, and gave as an encore "There are Fairies at the Bottom of Our Garden," a dainty, expressive bit. She was accompanied by Mrs. Myrtle Smith, Mrs. Grace Stewart, a member of the club for many years, told the members of "Shakespeare, the Man" and the concluding musical number was by Mrs. George Clark, including two Shakespearean songs, "Who is Sylvia" and "Sign not so, Ladies" from Much Ado About Nothing.

Los Angeles Pays RICHMOND the Supreme Tribute

Work on the new $3,000,000 oil terminal for the Pacific Petroleum Products Company, a Doheny corporation, has started.

Stretching from the inner to the outer harbor and embracing Point Potrero—occupying 215 acres of land and calling for the construction of a private wharf for the accommodation of large ocean going oil tankers—administration buildings and huge tanks and pipe lines, this new Doheny project is bringing into Richmond for construction purposes alone $3,000,000 of Los Angeles and Southern California money.

This outside wealth will augment Richmond's wealth, will bring employment of its citizens, tenants for its landlords and create new business for its merchants.

The supreme tribute which can be paid any community is to have an outside community and outside interests finance such projects as this.

Through the terminal the Doheny interests will distribute the gasoline and other manufactured products to the Central and Northern California markets.

Richmond as the ideal location for this purpose was pioneered by the Standard Oil company.

Within our area other big oil corporations have followed suit.

This addition of the new Doheny plant brings us additional prosperity and prestige.

Its location here is additional evidence of the accomplishments of the New Spirit of Richmond—the Spirit which is destined to make Richmond the industrial center of the west and the Spirit which the Richmond Chamber of Commerce is devoting its energy and its resources to foster.

WAGS WANTED
The Record-Herald

April of this year marks the opening of J. C. Penney Co. store number one thousand at Beloit, Kansas and the same month marks the completion of 26 years in which the name J. C. Penney has been associated with retail department store merchandising.

In this period the volume of business done by the nation wide organization of which Mr. Penney was the founder, has grown from $28,898 in the first year to $151,957,865 in 1927 with a goal set for this year which will continue the remarkable growth which has been achieved in the past.

In 1927 there were 145 new J. C. Penney Co. stores added to the group and among these were the 56 stores of the Jones Co. in the Northwest, an organization founded by men who were closely identified with Mr. Penney in his early career as a retail merchant and the 26 stores of the Golden Rule Mercantile Co., with headquarters in Ogden, Utah, Johnson and Stevens, the founders of the Golden Rule Mercantile Co., were fellow workers with Mr. Penney in retail selling in Wyoming before the Kemmerer store was opened.

The opening of store number one thousand in the so called spring group of new J. C. Penney Co. organizations indicates growth materially beyond this number of retail stores bearing the Penney name, before the end of the year.

In the original Kemmerer store, Mr. Penney served as a clerk behind a rough board counter. The present J. C. Penney Co. stores are models of efficiency with specially designed show cases, counters, and general equipment, all designed by merchandising engineers to facilitate the ease and comfort with which the millions of patrons of the company may be served.

The original store was a rough, unpainted building. The present stores form a uniform series of model front buildings characterized by the attractive facilities afforded for window displays.

With the development of the company, Mr. Penney has surrounded himself with a thousand partners, all of whom have grown and profited with the growth and increasing earning power of the organization.

DRIVER HELD IN KILLING OF LOCAL YOUTH

R. M. Neckel, 23, salesman for the Standard Oil company, residing at 761 Ninth street, this city, is slated for arraignment in the Albany courts tomorrow morning on a charge of manslaughter as the outgrowth of an accident early Sunday morning in Albany when his car hit and killed Lewis J. Williams, 25, 301 Nevin avenue, Richmond. The complaint was sworn to by John W. Williams, father of the dead youth, who declared he would prosecute the case to the limit.

It is alleged that Williams was standing in a safety zone when struck by Neckel's machine. Riding with Neckel were Miss Lorraine Zane, 1121 Pennsylvania avenue; Miss Christine Stone, 619 Thirteenth street; and B. J. Norman, 347 South Fourth street, all of Richmond. Neckel and his companions told police they did not see Williams until after the impact.

Williams died Sunday morning at Humboldt hospital in Albany, where he had been taken by James E. Weddell of Oakland. Neckel was arrested by officers when he returned to the scene of the accident to render assistance. He was released on bail to await court appearance tomorrow morning.

Owing to the fact there were no means of identification of Williams, his parents were notified of his death until Sunday noon. Mrs. Williams collapsed when she learned of her son's death.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by Bert Curry's chapel, and services will be held tomorrow morning, the cortege leaving the parlors at nine o'clock and proceeding to St.

Onetah Drill Team To Present Degree At Pittsburg Meet

Committee reports were heard last night at the meeting of the Onetah tribe of Redmen in Redmen hall, with Ed. White presiding. John Miller, chairman of the ladies night committee, reported plans progressing smoothly. The affair will be held the night of May 23. Marrial Jones, chairman of the committee handling arrangements for the district meeting to be held in Richmond May 14, reported favorably.

It was announced that the drill team would go to Pittsburg next Saturday night to put on the chief's degree. A large delegation will accompany the drill team. Kip Morrell entertained the tribesmen with selections on the accordion.

Rough Treatment Basis For Suit

Mrs. Elizabeth Smith of Richmond, through Attorney Will Robinson, yesterday filed suit for divorce here against Henry Smith, whom she married in 1918. Mrs. Smith charges that her husband cursed and reviled her and struck her. She asks restoration of her maiden name, Elsie. They separated on April 18.

Mark's Catholic church, Richmond, will be made in St. Joseph's cemetery, Richmond, of the bodies of Mark and Mary Smith, who were killed in the explosion of the church on April 18.

MCTIGUE AND EMMANUEL IN DRAW CONTEST

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—Armand Emmanuel, the young Jewish fighter upon whose shoulders the Pacific Coast pins its lightweight hopes, disappointed hosts of rabid home-town supporters here tonight when he did nothing more than achieve a draw with Mike McTigue of the roped arena and former light-heavyweight champion of the world.

Throughout the ten rounds of dull mulling, the 10,000 spectators who sat in the stalls at the State Armory hoped that the next moment would yield a thrill. They hoped in vain.

If any solid punch was delivered during the contest, it failed of notice. If any shade can be credited to either of the gladiators that shade belongs to Emmanuel.

Emmanuel was a heavy favorite to defeat the kid veteran before the going sounded.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there is no harm in taking a nipol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nupol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nupol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

Tunney Praises Shakespeare In Yale Address

(By Universal Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 23.—William Shakespeare was accorded recognition here today by James Joseph Tunney, world's champion boxer, otherwise known as Gene Tunney.

The world's champion, addressing classes from the School of Literature at Yale University to the number of 400 persons, spoke for 45 minutes on the Bard of Avon, and in the end conceded that, by and large, he was quite a hard.

"The first book of Shakespeare's I ever read was 'A Winter's Tale,' the muscular young bibliophile said. 'I read it on the battlefields of France.'

"I had borrowed the book from a friend in the service. I read it once, but failed to understand it. I read it again and again and again, until I had read it through twelve times. Then, and only then did its full import dawn upon me.

"This reading brought to me the understanding that Shakespeare was a great writer, a great poet and a great artist.

"As a great artist he also was a great moral force in the ethical sense. By his works he has given those who study him a greater love for and a greater understanding of their fellow men.

Bankers Of Contra Costa County To Tour Thursday

Arrangements for the Bankers' Field Day and Agricultural tour to be held Thursday, under the auspices of the Contra Costa County Agricultural Committee of the California Bankers' Association, in co-operation with the Agricultural Extension Service are now completed, according to Herbert A. West, Contra Costa county Key Banker of the California Bankers' Association.

The start will be made at the Memorial Monument, Junction of the Martinez, Concord and Walnut Creek highways at 9 a. m. The first stop will be made at the Theodore Hook Ranch, about one mile south of the Monument on the west side of the highway. From there to the Ed Smith Walnut ranch in the Ygnacio Valley, near Meinert Station. The day's program will close at 4 p. m.

A brief history of the industry, factors in obtaining quality production and marketing will be discussed for some local crops as follows:

Pears: Theodore Hook Ranch, Walnut Creek, by Theodore Hook. Walnuts, Ed Smith Ranch, Ygnacio Valley, by Neil Harrison, manager of the Contra Costa Walnut Association.

Yellowstone Cutoff Route Meetings Are Postponed

To provide opportunity for a wider representation at the series of meetings planned in California, Oregon and Idaho in the interests of a short cut route between Northern California and Yellowstone park, the date of these gatherings has been postponed for three weeks. This announcement was made by C. C. Cottrell, manager of the Highway Bureau of the California State Automobile association, who is in charge of arrangements for California participation in the program.

Highway leaders, officials, chambers of commerce and other organizations in northern and central California, eastern Oregon and Idaho are enthusiastically joining in the plans to crystallize

Apricots and Peaches, Kirkman Nursery Orchards, by Chas. B. Weeks, Balfour Guthrie Co.

At the Burroughs Bros. Certified Dairy, Knightsen, the value of cow testing association work will be shown by G. E. Gordon, State Dairy Extension Specialist of the University of California.

A special feature of the day's program will be discussion of "The Present Economic Situation of California Agriculture," by Professor H. H. Crocheron, Director, Agricultural Extension Service of the University of California.

"Walnut Efficiency Cost Studies for San Joaquin County" will be given by J. Willis Adair, Farm Advisor of San Joaquin County. These studies are for the season of 1926 and 1927.

Demonstrations of the work of the Contra Costa County Farm Home Departments and the Boys and Girls Agricultural Clubs will also be given.

A special lunch will be served at the Knightsen Farm Center Club House by the Farm Home Department women. The proceeds will go toward the Farm Center building fund.

Starting from Redding as the gateway city to the projected new Yellowstone route, the road boosters will endeavor to interest officials, organizations and communities all the way to Boise in the plan to induce further improvements of existing roads and secure a basis of cooperation for explorations of the proposed cut-off.

While interest in a more direct route to Idaho is keen all the way from Redding to Boise, the most enthusiastic boosters of the idea are to be found in eastern Oregon, where the Yellowstone cut-off proposal has been the pet plan of good roads boosters for several years past.

Supporters of the project in this region are planning to send a big delegation to the Redding meeting and to gather, en route, boosters from Astoria, Big Bear valley and the Fall river valley.

The first meeting will be at Redding May 14. Here the road boosters from northern and central California will mobilize while delegations will join them from eastern Oregon and Idaho. The next meetings will be held in Astoria May 15, in Lakeview, Oregon May 16, in Burns, Oregon

Youth Conquers Age In Battle For Gold Title

They battled, in Orinda's peaceful sunshine and surroundings in front of the quaint little Ave Maria church, did Lawson Little and Dr. Jack Wolf, and when the smoke of the torrid fray had cleared and a gasping gallery of 1000 again pumped breath into aching lungs the 17-year-old Galileo high school youth, Lawson Little, had crowned himself northern California champion, on the 30th hole, one up.

It was a battle. Nothing less. A battle between two warriors who could give no more in a well-torn area of blood. And when Wolf's eight footer—that would have kept the match alive slipped into the cup and out on the final green, 1000 pair of hands clapped themselves callous and 1000 voices raised a lusty cheer for both players. And Colonel Little patted son Lawson on the back with proud hands and no prouder mother was there in the countryside than Mrs. Little. Even a few tears were indulged in.

May 17, and in Boise, Idaho May 18.

NEW JOB CREATED IN EL CERRITO FIRE DEPARTMENT TO ASSURE BETTER SERVICE

A more efficient fire department was assured the people of El Cerrito Monday night when the council accepted the recommendation of Fire and Police Commissioner J. R. Beck to appoint another paid man in the department.

Beck stated in his recommendation that the fire department needed a day and night fireman with both men subject to call when off duty except on their days off, in order to operate efficiently.

Applications for the new position will be received by Councilman Beck until 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, April 25 and an examination will be held by Fire Chief W. P. Cooper of Richmond some time this week.

The salary for the new position will be $150 per month.

Requests of residents on Alameda avenue near the Richmond city limits to have the street graveled were referred to Street Commissioner Peter Hayes and Street Superintendent John Hayes.

Resignation of John Hayes as building inspector, to take effect on May 1, was accepted by the council. His successor will be appointed next week.

Petition for a street light on Tulare avenue opposite block 46 in the Mira Vista tract was referred to Light Commissioner Ernest O'Brien.

A permit was granted the Catholic Federation to hold a dance in Co-operative Hall, Stege Junction, on Saturday evening, April 28, from 8 p. m. to 1 a. m.

Tax Collector Forrest Wright reported collections for the month of March of $329.09.

City Treasurer Cora J. M. Stinson reported balances on hand April 2 in the following funds: motor vehicle fund, $13,247.76; fire bond fund, $6,329.30; general fund $12,660.84.

Building permits totaling $14,600 were issued during March according to the report of Building Inspector John Hayes.

In a report from the newly appointed Police Judge J. H. Plank, he stated the records were not up to date and he could not find the stubs to the receipt books. On the recommendation of Mayor Phil A. Lee an audit of the books of former Police Judge W. A. Hinds was ordered.

Street Superintendent Forrest Wright reported that the trees in the Berkeley Club Terrace road had been sprayed, as ordered by the council a week ago.

On the recommendation of Chief of Police Forrest Wright, the renewal of all soft drink permits for the coming quarter were granted. Many compliments have been received concerning soft drink permits, and it is likely that before the quarter ends, some of them will be revoked.

Street lights were ordered installed at Potrero avenue and Kearney street and Amador street and Macdonald avenue by the council on the recommendation of Light Commissioner Ernest O'Brien.

The report on the petition for the installation of a fire hydrant at Shevlin Drive and Stockton avenue was laid over one week for further investigation.

A permit was granted the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. to lay a three-inch pipe twenty feet long across the street at San Pablo avenue.

The council of the city of El Cerrito for the El Cerrito Lions club Friday, April 27, when the Richmond Lions Club will put on the entertainment for the El Cerrito organization.

Renewal of the bonds for the officers of city clerk and treasurer was ordered through Mervin Brennenman, El Cerrito agent.

Light and electrical wiring for the Boy Scout building on Manila avenue and Kearney street were ordered installed and bids will be received next Monday night for the installation of toilet fixtures and sewers by the council.

An extension of one year was granted the Richmond San Rafael Ferry Co. to erect a new sign at Cutting Boulevard and San Pablo avenue if they would accept all responsibility for any injuries caused by the present sign.

The ferry company stated they could not erect a new sign at this time as they had not received their franchise to construct a bridge to Marin county and so could not word it correctly.

Request of Charles Kaufman for a street light at Terrace Drive and Shevlin Drive was referred to Light Commissioner Ernest O'Brien.

From statements made by members of the council, it is very likely that the personnel of the police department will be changed in the near future.

Next Monday night the council will appoint a superintendent of the Gamewell fire alarm system.

Many Interesting Books Are Received At Library

Descriptive matter and a list of new books received at the library follow:

DRAKE'S RADIO CYCLOPEDIA.

This is probably the most complete radio book of its kind yet published. The field covered is that of the action, use and construction of devices employed in radiophone reception, together with related subjects which form the foundation of radio practice. The book is founded on laboratory experiments and the radio publications of the U. S. Bureau of Standards.

KIT CARSON—Vestal.

The first complete biography ever written of the famous frontiersman Christopher Carson. Vestal knows the country over which Kit Carson ranged and himself grew up among the Cheyenne and Arapaho Indians, the tribes with which Carson was most intimately associated, and from which he took his two Indian wives. A book which will interest all readers who like tales of frontier days.

INCREDIBLE SIBERIA—Wood.

Most people think of Siberia as a place of snow and exile and nothing else much. Here is a very readable book written by a newspaper correspondent who recently traveled over the country talking to the people and seeing how they live.

I BELIEVE IN GOD—Royden.

Miss Maude Royden of England who was in the bay region a few weeks ago, writes here of the belief that has come to her through her search for the meaning of life. She says in her preface that her book will probably not please either the orthodox or the scientist, but that she writes for the millions of people who like her agree with neither scientist nor theologian altogether.

THE BEAVER—Warren.

An account of the beaver, tracing ancestry and distribution in the United States with almost readable account of the building and ways of life founded chiefly on the authors observations of the animals in Colorado. Many illustrations.

LAWRENCE AND THE ARABIN ADVENTURE—Graves.

Many people felt on reading Lawrence's "Revolts in the Desert" that all had not been told. Robert Graves here gives us a continuous account of the adventure and a picture of an "exasperatingly complex personality."

MANY ATTEND ROLL CALL BY YEOMEN

Many were in attendance at the annual roll call of the Richmond Homestead of Yeomen held last night in W. O. W. hall. Honorable Foreman Margaret McCala presided at the session.

Guerrero, Camilla Alvarado, 2537 Fifteenth street, Oakland, and Mrs. Hermolinda Mujica, a sister of the Granados girls, were watching, while Mary and Lenora were shooting with a small-caliber rifle on shore.
